

Commencement Set, June 1

Ray E. Dillman

Dillman Baccalaureate Speaker

President Ray Dillman of the Hawaiian Temple gave the Baccalaureate Address to the graduating class of 1957 yesterday, May 30, at 2:00 p. m. in the Laie Chapel.

Prior to his address, the academic procession with the Board of Trustees, administration, faculty and graduates commenced from the library to the chapel. The College Choir sang three numbers, "Hawaii Aloha, Labor Missionary Hymn" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic" under the direction of Joseph H. Spurrier. The accompanist was Aileen Bobo.

Immediately after the Baccalaureate Service, the President's Reception for students, parents and other friends of the College was held on the grounds mauka of the chapel.

Julina E. Lung

"A Challenge To CCH Graduates"

Mrs. Julina Lung was chosen by the faculty to represent the graduating class as valedictorian for 1957. Mrs. Lung will deliver as valedictory address, "A challenge to CCH Graduates" at the commencement exercises tomorrow afternoon.

To win this honor, Julina maintained a grade-point average of 2.90 (A) for her two years here. She is president of Sigma Tau Sigma, a member of the Chinese Club, won third place in the first Territorial Intercollegiate speech contest and was one of CCH's representatives to the Model UN General Assembly held at the University of Hawaii.

Julina graduated from Roosevelt High School in 1951. She is a member of the Kaimuki Ward where she is the teacher trainer. She earned her Golden Gleaner award in 1956.

A lifetime resident of Honolulu, she is married to Glen Y. M. Lung and is the mother of one son.

"For All We Know"

The Second Annual Commencement Ball will be held in honor of the graduating class at the new recreational hall this evening from 8:00 to 11:30.

The theme for this gala occasion is "For All We Know." Beautiful, realistic decorations will portray the tropical scene of Hawaiian greenery and flowers. Adding to this unique array of decorations will be the aroma of fragrant flowers, with a dreamy atmosphere of twinkling stars and a crescent moon.

An exquisite program of entertainment will climax the evening. It will consist of solo's by baritone Jerry Saranillio, soprano Moana Su'a and a dance exhibition by Pualani Malo and William Kanakaole.

This dance tonight shall indeed be a night to be remembered by all.

William Montgomery

ASCCH President's Message

We have come to the end of another school year. To some of us it means looking forward to newer experiences. Nevertheless, the friendship, love and devotion which we have shown for each other and our institution will forever remain in our hearts.

As we thumb through our year-book, we can easily recall the events which occurred during this second year of pioneering at The Church College. May we resolve to make the best out of our knowledge and abilities acquired here to take our rightful place in our communities in the near future.

In behalf of the Executive Council and the Student Legislature, I wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to each and every one of you students and members of the faculty for the wonderful co-operation received during the year. Good luck and may our Heavenly Father bless each and every one of you.

Aloha Nui Loa,

William Montgomery
ASCCH president

To every man there openeth
A way, and ways, and a way,
And the high soul climb the high way
And the low soul gropes the low;
And in between, on the misty flats,
The rest drift to and fro.
But to every man there openeth
A high way and a low,
And every man decideth
The way his soul shall go.

ASPIRATIONS OF OUR GRADUATES

September 26, 1955, marked the beginning of two long years of studying for the first Freshman Class of The Church College of Hawaii. Referred to as "pioneers," these students reaped and paved the way for future students. Finally at long last, these "pioneers" find themselves in the midst of graduation exercises, and they must look forward to getting accustomed to new environments where they will complete their education. Many of the sophomores will travel to the States where they will seek further education, but a good number will remain here and do likewise.

The following are plans a few sophomores have made concerning their future.

Our talented art student and Spanish major, Mae Kunishige, will resume her studies at the Southern Oregon Educational College after a summer visit with her family on Maui.

Whether he will enroll at the Brigham Young University or at a university in Oregon, Walter Kiilau is still doubtful. However, more definite plans are being made for enrollment at the Oregon University.

Jeannette Kochi, Marilyn Yamasaki and Elaine Tsuneda will be leaving for California at the end of summer where they plan to make their fortune in the business world.

Jeannette and Marilyn have completed their training in business, while Elaine will return to her studies after a year of employment.

Wilbert Kaimikaua plans to attend the San Jose College in California. Another comment that he made was, "I would like to work for the Federal Bureau of Investigation or any sort of work that deals with the police force."

Some of the students planning to enroll at the Brigham Young University are Carol Flores, Judith Ching, Florence Kamauoha, Donald Manoa, Elaine Makaio, Frank Molle, Gail Pratt, Maizie Chun, Henry Ah Sam and Merlene Jeppsen.

If plans work out for Clinton Wood, he will attend the Brigham Young University. Otherwise he will enroll at the University of Hawaii.

Sally Takahashi will remain here on campus to assume the position of secretary to our Librarian, Professor Kenneth T. Slack. She plans to complete her junior and senior years at BYU in the fall of next year and then continue for another year at a library school to receive special training in librarianship.

Going on a mission is Bruce Meyers. His desires are to serve a Far-eastern mission, then enter the armed service, and resume his education at Utah State Agricultural College.

Commencement, The Beginning, Not The End

As a little tot, you can remember graduating from grammar school after six years of training; three years later receiving a diploma from your junior high school, and upon completion of another two years in senior high, you were presented with another diploma. Still young and fresh out of high school, you were not fully prepared to meet the problems and challenges of this ever-changing world.

Once again commencement exercises are being held in your honor. But, your troubles do not end here. Rather, it is just another beginning for you sophomores and a goal to be sought after by all underclassmen. This new beginner may encounter one of six pursuits, the remaining two being reserved for Latter-day Saint students.

1. Work. The hiring trend of business executives nowadays is to employ persons who have had a little more than high school education and experience. At a junior college such as this emphasis is placed on your line of work and experience may be obtained right on campus. This two-year educational background will very well prepare you to meet the demands of this business world.

2. Further education. "Whatever principle of intelligence we attain unto in this life, it will rise with us in the resurrection. If a person gain more knowledge and intelligence in this life through his diligence and obedience than another, he will have so much the advantage in the world to come." (D & C 130: 18-19) This intelligence may be obtained at an institution of higher learning and may be yours only through study and through faith.

3. Service. Every male is required to fulfill his military obligations without fail. Exemption of military duty will be granted only to those who are mentally or physically handicapped. But whatever branch of the armed service you enter, you are reminded to remember who you are and what you stand for.

4. Marriage. Are you prepared to take those marriage vows to love, honor and obey? Have you selected the right mate? Nobody can really be certain about this sacred and important trek forward; but, here's something new. You want to be able to grow up with your children, and an early marriage by proper authorities will help matters greatly.

5. Proselyting mission. Many people in far-fetched corners of the earth have not yet heard of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Your calling and acceptance will be a very good break in your life of robust activity. It will help you to appreciate and understand the gospel more fully and the experiences you gain will be priceless. Love the Lord, and serve Him with a contrite heart.

6. Labor mission. Brains and brawn could well be utilized on the special project of constructing the permanent buildings of The Church College of Hawaii in the pursuit of education. You will be laboring in atmosphere where your fellow workers are engaged in one purpose--that of further building His kingdom upon this earth.

May I congratulate the Class of 1957 and wish you all the best of luck in all your endeavors.

The Editor

FRIENDLY PERSUASION

Editor:

As a non-political layman on campus, I have heard many first-hand accounts from members of the student legislature about the inefficiency with which our student body funds are handled. By this, I mean the way that money is handed out, with no reflection on the student body treasurer.

To illustrate what I mean, let me give you the following example. On January 23, the legislature voted to give the AWS $200 for the Preference Ball and the Na Hoa Pono staff $150 for the "Dream Cruise." At a later meeting, the AMS was given $200 for the barn dance. All this money was appropriated without so much as the batting of an eyelash, or a little more. However, when the freshmen asked for $300 to put on the Commencement Ball in May, it was with great reluctance that the legislature voted them their money, and even after it had been given, a few die-hards refused to give up the fight.

The main reason for the legislature's hesitance in giving this money was that the amount was so big, regardless of the fact that the planning committee had worked up a budget and felt they could not operate with any less than this amount. At least, they had a rough accounting of where every cent was going, while none of the other groups had such a budget in detail. So in all fairness to the Frosh, the legislature had to give them what they asked for. Another argument for the freshmen was that the money the AMS and Na Hoa Pono received was voted in second quarter to come out of third quarter funds that had already been paid. At the time the money was voted, that explanation was given, but that doesn't strike me as a very efficient way to handle money.

As a consequence of all this jumble of money appropriations, the social committee has to take a back seat and can use only what money is left over after everyone else comes up and receives their allotment, and yet, it seems to me that the social committee should have first choice for student body funds. All that committee gets is a bawling out when their bills are too big (If they get any money to make a bill with) or complaints because they don't serve refreshments every time. Other smaller groups are left with a small pittance to put on socials when their turn comes.

The sad conclusion to this tale of woe is that nobody seems to be much concerned where our money goes, just so long as we spend it, but don't go in the hole. If we do go in the hole, the indications are that we would just call off remaining socials for the rest of the year.

Since they don't give us much choice about paying our student body funds, I think we as students have a right to ask that our money be handled more efficiently or that somebody else be chosen to administer it. I don't advocate wiping out the body else be chosen to administer it. I don't advocate wiping out the legislature or impeaching the treasurer, but I strongly suggest that one of the first things done next year is the planning of a budget. I also don't begrudge the AMS, AWS and Na'Hoa Pono staff for the money they were given, but I am down right disgusted with the ease other people are using to throw around our money. Here's hoping next year's officers can profit by our mistake and will start out right with a budget. Heaven save them from themselves if they don't.

Sincerely, G.P.

Personalities

"Podogi"

A friend in need is a friend indeed. This charming lass is one you should get to know. With her individual personality you can find her working in the registrar's office during the day. Eleanor Kaloi, the editor of Ke Alaka'i, comes to CCH from Hilo. She enjoys being here and finds Laie more like home. This business major, who dislikes domesticity, enjoys outdoor work and has been an active participant in campus affairs.

While here she has held many positions. Last year she was student body secretary-historian besides serving on the AWS Constitutional Committee and the Freshman Constitutional Committee. She was also last year's Na Hoa Pono editor. She has also been a participant in many assemblies.

This year she is student body secretary-treasurer, a member of the Photography Club, Servettes Club and is Journal Committee chairman for the Sigma Tau Sigma. She is also chairman of the Constitutional Revision Committee and has served on the Freshman Initiation Committee.

Besides all of these activities Eleanor still finds time to participate in women's intramurals. Softball captures first place on her list of sports which include baseball, volleyball, basketball, badminton and swimming.

Eleanor hopes to continue her education at Brigham Young University next fall or take on employment as a secretary.

"King"

"A supremely happy individual who enjoys very much the academic life" is Professor Jerry K. Loveland. This interesting faculty member, who was once rumored a genius, wants to make his career here. He enjoys the College and the students and finds that what he is doing now is what he likes to do most.

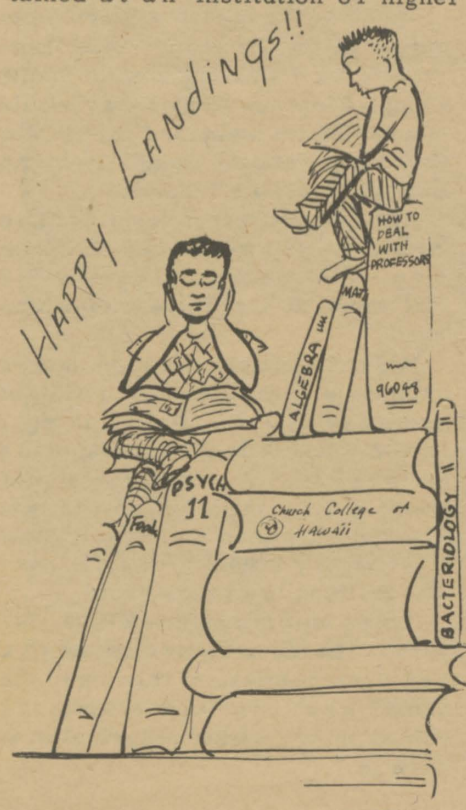

Before coming here to CCH, this Fulbright scholar went to the University of Manchester in England to study. At UCLA he received his masters degree, did graduate work and became a teacher in the Department of Political Science.

Professor Loveland is faculty advisor of Ke Alaka'i. This experienced journalist served as editor of an army newspaper while in Japan.

Art Exhibit Enjoyed

The campus was suddenly littered, not with papers, but with paintings that caught the eyes of every passer-by on May 22-24. Color, beauty and originality were well exhibited in the oil paintings of future artists Betty Condie, Emily Enos, Mildred Dillman, Cornelia Hirschi, Etta Swapp, Verna Kay Kalanui, Kenneth Fuchigami and Mae Kunishige. Professor Wylie Swapp was instructor of the class.

Some people always complain about not seeing their handles in the paper. Well, here goes, Gary Masuoka. Are you satisfied?

Campus Clubs

Spanish Luncheon

The Spanish Club concluded the year with a luncheon-social held at Professor Elizabeth Price's home on May 29 from 12 to 1 p. m.

A light lunch was served as everyone discussed their future plans and their hopes to visit Mexico, now that they have mastered the Spanish language.

Honored at this luncheon was Professor Price, who has served as advisor to the club. She has aided the Spanish Club tremendously contributing her untiring efforts to promote a better understanding of the life, language and activity of Spanish-speaking countries.

June Mendiola served as chairman for the event.

Technology Club

The Technology Club was recently organized on campus and consists of boys from the Industrial Arts Division.

The officers of the club are president, Henry Ah Sam; vice-president, Bruce Meyers; secretary, Alexander Kua; and treasurer, Robert Naluai. The advisor for the club is Professor Ernest C. Jeppsen, head of the Industrial Arts Division. One of the purposes of the club is to get acquainted with industry.

The boys have made two excursions. Their first was to the Kahuku Plantation where Mr. Christopher, mill engineer, acted as guide through the sugar cane processing mill. Their second trip was to the Honolulu Iron Works. Mr. Ellis, a member of the Church and the Chief Draftsman at the Iron Works, acted as a guide for them. They were able to see the different kinds of machines and equipment used to produce other equipment for the plantations and builders.

Thanks For Aid

The editor and staff of the Ke Alaka'i would like to extend their heart-felt thanks and appreciation to Dr. Glen Moore for all the time and effort he has so unselfishly contributed towards the developing, printing and preparation of pictures to be used in the issues of the student newspaper.

Hawaiian Temple, Scene Of Marriage

Miss Nena Flo Law, teacher at Hauula Elementary School and art student at The Church College of Hawaii, was united in the bonds of holy matrimony in the Laie Temple on Friday, May 24, to Mark Larsen of Springfield, Utah.

Staff Of News

The Ke Alaka'i staff has accomplished their work for the year 1956-57 with the edition of this last paper.

Spearheaded by Eleanor Kaloi, the staff has a very enjoyable year working together, producing newspapers for the student body.

There were times of hardships, when no one would take time out to even give the next person a smile. There were times when the staff had to forfeit going to the movies to work on the paper. There were times when the staff would just sit and look at each other, frustrated.

But there were times when the staff would laugh and laugh when someone would give a joke. I guess the staff will always remember a saying that Professor Loveland gave, "I've got one grunch but the egg plant over there". No one laughed; they were all dumbfounded. They'll remember the night when they were invited to a dinner at his home. Oh, the food was so delicious and the entertainment so enjoyable. Our hosts could perform so many unusual things. It's simply amazing.

Yes, the Ke Alaka'i staff has had their times, good and bad. But no one seemed to mind it at all. They were happy to work hard so that you, the student body, could have a paper to read. The staff hopes that you have enjoyed the work that they have done. Mahalo!

Assemblies

This Is Your Life

"This is Your Life," a story of episodes from the life span of the Sophomore Class, was presented to the student body on May 16 as the annual sophomore assembly.

As the audience watched, a temporary building was constructed on stage to remind old-timers of the arrival of the first classrooms, such as they were, on the campus of CCH. Then the faculty arrived, complete with tourist gas and little kids.

School started, and the registrar blossomed out to welcome all the new students. Unfortunately, this one was a little choosy and stopped to gab often with friends of friends who had come to register, so that at the end of the day, half of the students were turned away.

As the students got better acquainted, they discovered a big, yellow moon and astronomy got to be a favorite subject. One wee Thespian, who evidently has no interest in astronomy, decided that an empty stage makes a good place to dance and took advantage of his opportunity.

The last dance depicted one of the most common situations a CCH student finds himself in--soaking wet in a downpour.

At the close of the program, the audience rose and sang the "Alma Mater." Graduating sophomores then sang "Auld Lang Syne" to conclude the assembly.

According to the Record

Elections of ASCCH officers for 1956-57 were held on May 3, 1956. Officers elected were Norman Tong, president; Walter Kiilau, vice-president; Eleanor Kaloi, secretary; and Jeannette Kochi, secretary-historian. On May 8, 1956, AMS members selected John Jensen as president, David Keala, vice-president and Henry Ah Sam, secretary. Similar AWS officers elected the same day were Lucy Burke, president; Kanani Moikeha, vice-president; and Jean Haraguchi, secretary-historian.

In the last club meeting of the year, Julina Lung was elected Sigma Tau Sigma president for the coming year; Sally Takahashi was chosen as vice-president and Jean Haraguchi, secretary-historian. Dr. Glen Moore was club advisor.

"Father's Been to Mars," the first annual spring play was presented on April 12 and 14 at the Hukilau. A repeat performance was given to benefit the Laie Second Ward building fund. Professor Woodruff Deem directed the play. Members of the cast included Glen Auna, Junene Jones, Merlene Jeppsen, Verna Mae Ho, Margaret Kamau, Donald Manoa, Florence Kamaooha, Lily Manuela, Irene Hall and Bryson Chong. Assisting were Alex Kali as stage manager and Elaine Makaio as prompter. Costumes were under the direction of Mrs. Genevieve Bowman and Norris Deem was "right-hand man" to everyone.

Traditional May Day festivities were enjoyed at the first Lei Day of the College on May 1, 1956. The day's activities were ruled over by King William Kanakaole in a royal chieftan's apparel and Queen Elizabeth Kaleo in a white satin holo-ku. The program, which was narrated by Julina Lung, included conch shell blowers, princesses for the eight islands, a Hawaiian group and the famed Takarazuka Troup (male faculty) which hails from the shores of Laie Bay. A hearty feast of lomi salmon, lau lau, chicken luau and poi was served at Kakela. The day ended with a softball game between the male faculty and the male students of the College. Clinton Wood, Lily Manuela and Margaret Kamau were co-chairmen for the day.

Elder Harold B. Lee of the Quorum of Twelve Apostles spoke to a devotional assembly on April 24, 1956. His words of counsel assured the assembly that in order to grow as an individual, one must sacrifice many times during his life. Church members sacrifice untold hours because they know that the Church is true, and the work must be carried on. Elder Lee concluded with the advice that no one is really happy when he is not busy. Therefore, why not keep busy by helping others who need our help and quit thinking of ourselves so much?

Sophomore Tea

On May 22, the Faculty Women's Club honored the sophomore girls with a tea at the home of President and Mrs. Ray E. Dillman on Lanihuli Street.

A white gardenia was presented each graduate upon entrance, and cookies, nuts, mints and punch were served to young women by Bertha Young and Norris Deem. Adding a bit of color and beauty to the scene were bouquets of red roses and white asters for center piece of the table.

Son Born To Moore's

"The Moore the merrier." Dr. and Mrs. Glen Moore of Laie welcomed a son, Robert Keola Moore on May 19, 1957. Congratulations and thanks for the candy.

Ma Enos Honored

A surprise birthday party was given in honor of Mrs. Emily Enos on her 50th year by the three dormitories and faculty of The Church College of Hawaii on May 10 at the Laie Chapel Recreational Hall. Gifts received by our half-a-century old mother were, as she put it, "exquisite." The faculty presented her with a $20 gift certificate from the Liberty House in downtown Honolulu while the Campus Dorm gave her a beautiful white evening jacket. Lanihuli gave her a box of sweets and Laniloa, a rhinestone jewelry set. Acting as head chairman for the event was Harry Murray and acting as co-chairman was Glen Auna.

Frosh Picnic Held

On May 17 the Class of '58 held their one and only class party for the year. Held at Hauula Beach Park, the party began at 4:00 and ended in time for the movie at the school.

General chairman for the event was Norman Faldmo. Other committees were led by Clara Loo, food; Alwin Battad, recreation; Frank Chang, entertainment; and Norman Faldmo, transportation. Odetta Kualaa was secretary for the planning committee.

During the afternoon class members enjoyed volleyball, football, baseball and swimming. The evening was climaxed by teriyaki dinner, dancing and entertainment from the dorms. Professors Deem, Georgi and their wives were guests of the class.

Dear G.P.:

Thank you for your letter which, it seems to me, was the first real spark of true school spirit. At least somebody is interested in the way our school government is run. Inasmuch as your list of grievances was written in good faith, I would like to answer accordingly.

You indicated receiving first-hand accounts from members of the student legislature about the inefficiency with which our student body funds are handled. I regret to inform you that those legislators openly admitted their inefficiency with regard to legislative affairs. The ASCCH constitution limits the powers of the Executive Council, of which the student body treasurer is a part, with respect to monetary appropriations.

Obviously, you were misinformed about the allotments made to the AWS, Na Hoa Pono and AMS. Speculation was given to the figures presented by those organizations, and a very much detailed account of where the money would be expended was also submitted with their requests. As for the freshmen wants, first action taken by the Council resulted in a six to two vote granting them $300. Those die-hards represented the other two-thirds of the student body who felt that the $300 was too far in excess of other social expenses.

This year's social committee has done wonders in providing student socials of a higher quality, and they are to be commended for all they have accomplished. However, the committee has never been reprimanded by anyone regarding their expenses. All social assignments are made by the social chairman thereby arresting any idea of having the committee take the back seat at any time. The chairman makes and breaks social engagements on his own accord.

This 1956-57 academic year involved many more activities and setting up of committees and organizations that encountered heavier expenditures in comparison to that of the first year. A budget, as you suggested, was set up at the beginning of the year but became inconsistent as the establishment of the aforementioned activities started on the upgrade. Since our institution operates on the quarterly basis, because our enrollment fluctuates as it does and since some payments are made long past due, it is definitely impossible to set up a straight budget at the first of the year. Furthermore, we do not wish to impose upon the rights of the College treasurer inasmuch as he has direct jurisdiction over the collection and distribution of the receipts.

Thank you again for your most interesting correspondence, and may you keep your abiding faith in our school activities. Hope to see you there--in heaven!

Very truly yours,
The Editor

Students Receive Scholarships

Scholarships were awarded to Donald Manoa and Merlene Jeppsen from the Brigham Young University for their high academic attainment.

These scholarships will cover tuition and fees for the Autumn Quarter 1957-58, and are renewable for the Winter and Spring Quarters depending upon their maintenance of a 3.5 (A-) grade-point average or higher when enrolled for 16 or more quarter hours.

Both students are very active in college activities and are members of our Honor Society, Sigma Tau Sigma. Donald was CCH's first student body president, and Merlene showed her untiring efforts in editing our yearbook, the Na Hoa Pono.

On May 14, the leftside of Campus Dorm walloped the rightside 18-11 after defeating the commuters on May 8 by a score of 22-8.

All members and captains of each team were the same players that participated in the volleyball league.

Under the tactful leadership of Wilbert Tai Hook, the champs displayed excellent teamwork with spirits of "never say die."

Making a desperate attempt for basket, is Laniloa coed, Mildred Aina, while other teammates and opponents await rebound.

Women's Intramural Cage Tourney

Toss-in time for the girls intramural basketball tournament was May 8, at 3:00 p.m. Laie Aces took the opener away from Hauula with a score of 25-16. Laniloa Eleus received tough competition from the Lanihuli Alii's, but managed to edge out victoriously by a score of 22-16. Final tabulation of the results of other games played in the league found the Laniloa Eleus and Laie Aces tied for first place.

Elaine Makaio captains the Laniloa team consisting of Laura Lee Pratt, Marilyn Yamasaki, Emilie Kaimi, Clara Loo and other substitutes.

The Laie Aces, Merren Au, Rosaline De Guzman, Cleo Ann Fane, Yvonne Meatoga, Angeline Hopai and Laverna Kamae, were captained by Judy Au.
