

CCH BUILDINGS NEAR FINISH

by Mickey Meyers

Only 41 local men are filling positions as labor missionaries at the new college, according to Pres. Arthur Parker Sr., superintendent in charge. These men can be seen every day, except Sundays, diligently at work on the "project."

Up until recently the Labor Missionaries have been doing all of the construction work, but now the church has hired construction companies to erect the steel beams for the framework of some of the buildings. This has lightened the work considerably and has given the men more time to work on landscaping the grounds.

The Labor Missionaries have been told that they all will be home for "Turkey", and that the buildings will be completed during the Fall of this year.

"Mom" Plans Birthday Party

It is customary for the residents of various dormitories to have birthday parties in honor of those whose birthdays fall within each quarter. During the first and second quarter, the students whose birthdays fell in those months were honored at the birthday parties in the cafeteria.

Mom Enos and the kitchen staff are intending to honor those whose birthdays fall within the months of April, May, June, July, and August. They will plan a menu for a special dinner in honor of those students. Various dormitories will put on an time for entertainment.

A list of students whose birthdays are in this quarter will be published in a later publication.

SERVETTES SPONSOR "APRIL HOP"

"April Hop" will be the theme of a dance to be sponsored by the Servettes club on April 25, at the Laie Social Hall. No admission will be charged to this "no date affair."

Music for the evening will be furnished by the Five Dots.

The following girls have been chosen to head the various committees for this dance: Anna Joy Smith, general chairman, Alice Paik, publicity chairman, Laverne Kamai, decoration chairman, and Marjory Kauhane, refreshment committee chairman.

The club is now sponsoring a sensational "Better English Campaign." Posters have been erected, and short speeches are being given in assemblies, all for the further promotion of "Better English."

Further future plans being discussed are, the selling of school stationery, and the ordering of club sweatshirts. A club picnic is also being planned.

DEPUTATION TEAM TO VISIT LOCAL WARDS

Under the direction of Dr. Richard Wootton and Bro. Nephi Georgi, a deputation team which provides complete sacrament services to the different wards and branches in both stakes has been formed.

The team is made up of four speakers, Glenna Lee, Heinie Peters, Anna Joy Smith, and Ish Stagner and a girl's quintet of Mickey Meyers, Gladys Chu, Viola Johnson, Abbie Waiwaiole, and Jackie Kalama. Charles Nahinu is the first alternate speaker on the team as well as being the prayer-giver.

The team's services usually last for approximately an hour and 15 minutes and have been given twice this year at the Halawa Kalihi, and Moanalua Wards.

The team has been invited to speak at the Wahiawa Ward and the Auwailimu Ward on the 27th and 20th of this month.

MAY DAY PLANS UNDERWAY

"Rhythm of the Islands" has been chosen as the theme for the third annual May Day program for CCH

The conch shell blowers who will begin the processional will be followed by the Kahuna, Kahili bearers, Crown bearers, and attendants to the queen. The King and Queen will be the next in the procession and will be crowned as they reach their thrones. The island princesses, will carry their island leis and representatives of the different racial groups, who will carry their native foods, will also be included in the processional.

Following the processional, there will be a Hawaiian attire fashion show, after which a program of hulas and songs will take place.

DAVID O. MCKAY IN HONOLULU

CCH GREETERS SEE PRESIDENT

by Glenna Lee

"It was one of the most exciting things that ever happened to me. All of us were humbled and inspired by the beautiful spirit around him." With an expression on her face that verified this statement, one of a group of students who greeted and presented leis to President David O. McKay at Honolulu Airport on Monday afternoon, told this reporter of her experience.

"Although the fact that the President was arriving in Honolulu airport was supposed to be a secret, it leaked out and we got wind of it early Monday. On the spur of the moment, we decided to go down to see him arrive.

"When we got to the airport, we picked out some leis although we didn't think that we would ever get close enough to the President to give them to him.

Plane Lands

"As the plane landed, we walked in through the gates where a small crowd was waiting. And then--the door of the plane opened and the President disembarked, preceded by his wife. The waiting greeters crowded around them presenting them leis and playing the ukulele and singing. We hesitatingly walked over near him with our leis not knowing exactly what we should do. Someone in the crowd said 'Go ahead.' It was all the encouragement we needed.

Present Leis

"As we kissed him on the cheek, he took hold of our shoulders and kissed us back and smiled. We even had our picture taken with President McKay and his wife. He asked us where we were from and what we were doing. Then he heard that we were from CCH, the President said 'I'm looking forward to seeing you again.'

"We've seen the president before, but never as close as this. It was truly a remarkable experience."

Elections Set

April 28th and May 9th are election dates for AS CCH and AMS - AWS respectfully. It was announced by Carl Sorensen, General Chairman of Elections. All candidates will be presented to the regular Student Body on April 28.

Philosophy is a bully that talks very loud when the danger is at a distance; but the moment she is hard pressed by the enemy she is not to be found at her post, but leaves the brunt of the battle to be borne by her humbler but steadier comrade, Religion.

- Colton.

Dr. Reuben D. Law, President of the Church College of Hawaii, has announced that his sabbatical leave will begin in July of this year.

Pres. Law is planning on spending his leave studying at the University of Southern California and at Stanford University in California. He will be doing work specifically in the field of Educational Administration and Teacher Education.

The grant of Pres. Law's sabbatical leave was made by the Church's Pacific Board of Education with the approval of Pres. David O. McKay. It is customary in higher education to take a leave every seven years for the purpose of study and travel.

In Pres. Law's absence, Dr. Richard T. Wootton, Director of Guidance Services, will be the college's acting administrator. The movement of the college is anticipated to be the only major change in the college routine during Pres. Law's absence.

The Law family is also going to the mainland with Pres. Law. A stop at Provo, Utah, is anticipated during the summer before the family settles down in California for the year.

Pres. Law has been President of CCH since the announcement of its establishment in July of 1954. His sabbatical leave extends until August 31, 1959.

A. M. S. BARN DANCE A HIT

"Swing your partner round and round"

"Clap your hands and hit the ground"

Under the auspices of the AMS, the third annual Barn Dance was held Friday, April 4th, at the Hukilau.

Attired in authentic western garb, the "Reno Ramblers", who were the orchestra, aided and abetted by Patrick Dalton, Wylie Swapp, and John Broad, engineered the complete enjoyment and exhaustion of the dancers.

Reigning as the "Farmer's Daughter" was petite, Mickey Meyers who was elected unanimously as AMS sweetheart for 1958.

"Hillbilly" Harry Murray, and winsome Maile Ann Enos were awarded duplicate prizes for having the best costumes.

One of the highlights of the evening was the huge banquet held during intermission when both students and faculty gorged themselves on Mom Enos' southern fried chicken, teriyaki steak, rice, poi, hot rolls, pumpkin, and apple pie a la mode, and fruit juice.

THINKING OUT LOUD

MUCH ABOUT NOTHING

by Wayne Kailikea

"Man's best friend is his dog." Certainly that is a saying familiar to everyone. But have you heard this one? "A writer's best friend is the dictionary." You probably never have.

But think on that last saying for a moment or two. You will realize that there is some truth in it.

For instance, suppose you were writing a theme on democracy. You certainly would have to look up definitions in order to express the right thought.

The dictionary is handy because it teaches correct pronunciation. Nothing is more embarrassing than to mispronounce a word and be laughed at. A dictionary can be referred to for correct spelling also.

Let's get acquainted with the dictionary and cash in on its values.

Youth Going to the Dogs?

What's all this talk about youth going to the dogs? Frankly I think we're a pretty good bunch. Sure we get into a few fights, we harrass our Professors, and we "goof off" once in a while. That's natural.

* * * * *

The other day, an article in a magazine caught my eye. This is the height of insult, I thought. Not only do they call us names to our faces, but now they are trying to belittle us in writing. This is the way it went:

"Children now love luxury, they have bad manners, contempt for authority, they show disrespect for elders, and love to chatter in place of exercise. Children are now tyrants and not slaves of the household. They no longer rise when an elder enters the room, they contradict their parents, chatter before company, gobble up the food at the table, cross their legs, and tyrannize their teachers."

And that, my friends, was written 2000 years ago by Socrates.

I wonder what it will be like in another 2000 years?

I still don't know how it all happened. One minute I was lying comfortably in a cozy nest, then before you could say "Easter Egg", I was whisked away to the kitchen and dumped into a pot of boiling water. My yolk curdled at the thought!

Then I was dunked, like a common doughnut, into a bowl of dye. I was so humiliated that I blushed and gradually turned from a delicate pink to a fiery red.

I was placed gently behind the washing machines. Darkness descended... then I waited and waited and waited. I became very indignant! What in the world was going on? What does it feel like to be an unfound Easter Egg?

ROTTEN!!!

* An Expensive Lesson *

"My license? I'm sorry, officer, but I don't have a drivers license yet; I'm still learning.

"My permit? Well, you see, uh, It expired three weeks ago, but I didn't think I'd have to renew it. I'm almost ready to get my license.

"No, sir, I didn't realize that I was speeding, Somethings wrong with the speedometer in this car, and, uh...

"But I was just going a little over the speed limit, sir. Is that such a horrible crime?

"Oh, no, officer, I didn't know that an all-time high of 60 traffic deaths were recorded last year. What's that? Ten deaths already for 1958?

"I admit that's pretty bad, sir, but after all, I'm not a reckless driver. I'd never get into an accident unless another car crashed into me..."

"But officer, just 48 hours to post bail for court? A twenty-five dollar fine? Oh, No! There goes my allowance for the next few months..."

"That's a pretty expensive lesson sir, but I guess that a funeral would cost a lot more..."

When Samuel Richardson wrote Pamela, the first novel, he wanted to create a connected story that pointed out a moral. His example started a new type of writing, one that had a great appeal to the masses and a tremendous power for good and evil. Yet here at CCH, many students have created an avid dislike for reading.

Why? It's because they feel they can't write good book reports, or that they have to read a book that will appeal to the teacher.

This is not altogether true. Your literature teacher wants you to read good books that will build up your literary background. This includes many books which are not dull or dry.

A book report consists of your own opinion. If you don't like James Fenimore Cooper because he is too wordy, or because his characters are wordy, say so then back it up with examples. However, if you fill your report with remarks that you think the teacher wants, or if you narrate the story to her, you've missed the point, and your opinions show the padded truth.

Be sympathetic. Be kind to animals, especially first year newswriting victims. Last quarters' issue, today's and future editions were and will be published by us, the intellectuals.

This is a trial and error period. Please bear the burden with the staff. Perhaps your name'll be misspelled, you may be misquoted, and pictures will probably be squeamish. If you've been overlooked entirely, you're lucky.

The inexperienced journalists frantically work out the "news" stories, the make-up sheets, and jot down heads and subheads.

* * * * *

The recent rains are blamed for the break-up of at least one happy couple. This bit of overheard conversation may give a clue as to the reason;

Boy to girl: "From the top of your head to your ankles you are all reet, but from your ankles down, you are all feet."

Definition: Ibid - a well read book.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

BETTER ENGLISH CAMPAIGN

April 13, 1958

Dear Editor:

I see where youse got posters all over da place trying to get us guys to use da kine, good English. Don't ya know dat us can't learn good English jus by looking at posters?

What we needs is some good examples to follow. In da dorms we hear Pidgin almos' all da time. No can use good English when da udder guy uses Pidgen, you know.

Jus a suggestion, but, maybe us guys could jus not answer when we get spoke to in da kine - Pidgin. Like I say, jus a suggestion, but it would be nice to be able to speak English also. Who knows, someday maybe we understand what da udder guy is trying to say.

Yours truly,

"Stervice"

LANILOA--SUBJECT FOR POETRY?

April 14, 1958

Dear Editor:

While recently reading "Pele and Hiiaka - A Myth from Hawaii" by N. B. Emerson, I came across a poem which I thought might be of interest to some. The words were supposed to have been spoken by Hiiaka while she was at Ka'i papa'u (south of Laie) looking out upon cape Lani-loa.

Addressing the cape, Hiiaka said:

Lele Lani-loa; ua malie; Ke Hoe a'e la ka Moa'e, Ahu kai i na pali; Kaiko'o lalo, e. Ua pi'i kai i uka, e.

The English translation offered by Emerson reads:

Fly Lani-loa, fly in the calm. At the moaning of Moa'e, Mist veils the mountain walls. The breakers roll ever below, While Ocean climbs to the hills.

According to Emerson, Moa'e means, the trade wind.

I also looked in Dante's "Inferno" for a poem which might describe the boy's campus dorm, but was unable to find one.

Yours,

Don McInnes

CAMPUS CLUBS

Technology

On April 11, the Technology club visited the Hawaiian Pine-apple Cannery and the KGMB T. V. station to acquaint the members with different type of machines.

At the Cannery, a demonstration of a band-saw cutting steel proved rather interesting to the students.

At the KGMB station, Mr. Hunter, the chief engineer, escorted the boys to the different rooms and explained the workings of the different mechanisms.

The excursion proved to be very successful, and the boys are looking forward to future excursions.

Business

$90 profit was realized by the Business club as a result of the sweet bread sale held recently according to Agnas Aniu, president.

The club plans to award grant-in-aids to outstanding business students that are in financial need of such help. The amount of grant-in-aids, which has not been set, will be discussed in future meetings.

Camera

The members of the Camera club are planning to engage in a field trip to Sacred Falls.

Spanish

"Fiesta", a Spanish pageant will be presented by the Spanish club at the regular student assembly on April 17.

The following students were chosen to head the different committees: Phyllis Makaiau, general chairman; Laverne Kamai, costume chairman; Rosaline De Guzman, prop chairman; and Rowena Kahaleiwi, decoration chairman.

For sale: One slightly elongated nose. Call Paris 63784. Ask for Cyrano.

Sigma Tau Sigma

April 14 was chosen as the date for the first social of the year for the Sigma Tau Sigma. The party, which was held at the Welfare farm at 6:30 PM, was in the honor of the new members of the organization.

Other plans of the Society include an "hour with each professor," to stimulate knowledge and acquaintances with each professor on the campus. Plans are being made for the first such visit.

Organized during the first year of the colleges' existence, the Sigma Tau Sigma is the oldest club on campus. It was formed as an honor society for students attending the Church College of Hawaii. Its aims are to stimulate high scholastic achievement, to promote individual service and leadership to our church and to our school, and to help develop the character and understanding of its members.

Any student attending the Church College of Hawaii, carrying a grade point average of 3.25 or better, and having no individual grade lower than C per quarter is eligible for membership.

Progressive Party Is Friday Social

Progressive Party, a yearly event, was held on March 27, 1958, at 7:30 p. m. The party started at Lanihuli Dorm where appetizers were served. The group then proceeded to Campus Dorm where chili con carne was served as the main dish. The group then proceeded to Laniloa Dorm and had roasted marshmallows and hot chocolate for dessert. Entertainment was put on by the different dorms down on the beach in front of Laniloa Dorm. The girls from BYU did a Grecian dance. Lanihuli and Lanihou girls sang, Laniloa girls sang and danced the hula, and the Campus Dorm boys sang and presented Allen Barcarse in a hula.

The Na Hoa Pono staff wishes to announce that subscriptions to the 1957-58 Na Hoa Pono will be sold thrice a week at 12:30 PM in front of the library.

The annual will have 120 pages this year which means that there will be more and more pages of YOU!

There will be bigger and better pages and pictures of YOU!

Students Work Around The Clock

By Pitone Ioane

Students, you sometimes wonder who cleans our school campus? Have you ever paid any attention to those who are working so hard at cleaning our school rooms, the cafeteria, the administration building, and the Library? Let's salute those students and congratulate them for their fine work.

The Ground and Building Department is supervised by a well beloved gentleman, Brother George Nakanishi. He has a group of fourteen dependable students, who are industrious and capable for the work. They are as follows:

Damaso Allen Barcarse, an "Angel of the Daydawn", wakes at six o'clock every morning to clean the Administration Building. Betty Takamine works as Brother Nakanishi's secretary. Scotty Wailehua, Merlin Makahi, Castle Kailimai, and Edward Poepoe take care of the campus, the upkeep of the school buildings and the four dormitories. Maile Ann Enos, Abbie Waiwai, and Jacqueline Waiwai see that the school rooms are clean and that the desks are arranged properly. Charlene Moikeha and Alice Paik are the two good "Lady Brownies" who wake at six o'clock every morning to polish the door knobs of the library, dust the desks, and scrub the floor. Pianola Fonua works in the cafeteria "to clean the windows and sweep the floor, and polish all the handles of the big front doors." Victor Kukahiko is the chief driver of the truck, and Lei'a Mapu helps him. Lei'a Mapu is given the title of "Chief Mower" because he is the only one who uses the lawn mower to now the four dorm's and the campus' compounds.

Brother Nakanishi said that other than to satisfy the whims of the professors, the boys take care of the demands of the Social Committee from time to time, providing, they have their requisition in on time and not on the day of the social. In a way, the boys learn how to take care of the equipments and the dorm appliances. As in any other type of work, I find students who are capable and reliable, and those who are not. The students on the job are very reliable and are doing satisfactory work.

Let's give them a big hand and support these students for the wonderful "hana" that they are doing on the campus. Congratulations to Brother Nakanishi and his crew for the wonderful job that they are doing around the campus! May you always do your best!

MAHALO!!!!

DORM DOINGS

Lanihou

Helene Meyers, better known as "Mickey", was unanimously elected to serve as president for the Lanihou dormitory on Wednesday, March 26, during the dormitory's first business meeting for the quarter.

When God gave out brains,
I thought He said trains,
And I missed mine.

When God gave out beauty,
I thought He said duty,
So I didn't ask for any.

When God gave out noses,
I thought He said hoses,
And asked for a long one.

When God gave out legs,
I thought He said kegs,
So I got two round ones.

When God gave out dresses,
I thought He said messes,
So I got a chemise.

MURRAY, SASAKI AT MAUI MEET

Harry Murray and Raymond Sasaki, members of the varsity track team represented CCH at the Maui Senior League Invitational Meet last weekend.

Murray and Sasaki placed first in the shot put and pole vault divisions respectively. According to Coach Lolotai, the officials of the track meet commented, "It's a good thing CCH didn't send any more than two."

Coach Says...

There will be no more wrestling meets this year according to the Coach. He said that the team feels that a fine start has been made in promoting interest in the sport in both the school and the community.

TRACK NOTES

Seven men have turned out for the first varsity track team in the history of CCH.

Training diligently every week day are Harry Murray, Tony Magaoay, Clarence Kaona, Alan Barcarse, Heinie Peters, "Gigo" Balderas, and Raymond Sasaki. Brian Wright is manager of the squad.

As part of the May Day festivities at CCH, a track meet be held it was announced by Coach Al Lolotai. The CCH varsity track team will be split into two class teams which will, with a team from the Laie Community and a team from the Labor Mission, make up the four teams entered in the meet.

Girls are invited to participate in the track meet also.

Coach has announced that the Varsity Team will be entered in the University of Hawaii Invitational Track meet to be held on May 17 and the AAU track meet to be held on May 24.

On April 19 there is a possibility that the team will participate in a special meet sponsored by the AAU in an effort to raise an Olympic Fund.

INTERCOLLEGIATE CONFAB HELD

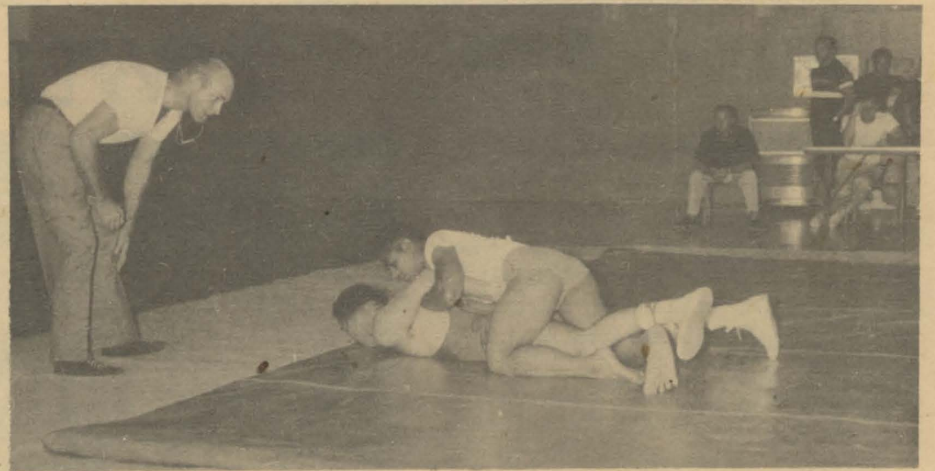

As a result of the first inter-collegiate conference held at the University of Hawaii on March 8, an inter-collegiate council was formed. The council will meet at Jackson College in Honolulu sometime in April with the president and one representative of the student councils of the seven colleges in the territory in attendance.

Twelve students represented CCH at the conference which lasted from 8 in the morning to 4 that afternoon. Attending were sophomores - Theresa Kalama, Anna Joy Smith, Napua Kanoho, Caroline McDougall, Lewis Muhlstein, Alwin Battad, and Allan Jeppsen; freshmen - Leda Law, Henrietta Kahaunele Glenna Lee, Ishmael Stagner, and Allan Barcarse. George Terada drove the group into town.

Following an introductory opening session, the group was divided into three sections to discuss the problems of the different aspects of campus life.

After reports from the sessions of Student Government, Organizations and Publications, lunch was served in the University's cafeteria.

The afternoon sessions consisted of discussions on the possibilities of intramural competition between the various colleges, and announcement of an oratorical contest and the model United Nations

LOLOTAI PRAISES WRESTLING SQUAD FOR FINE SHOWING IN THREE MEETS

The wrestling team has competed in three AAU meets and made fine showings considering their inexperience. Here's the picture:

Novice Meet: (Church College of Hawaii won six out of eight titles.) Robert Avalua, Heavyweight; John Elwell, 160; Russell, Elwell, 174; Fred Puaatuaa, 136; Fred Nagao, 125; Po'u Soliai, 191.

Hawaiian Open: (Church College of Hawaii won one out of eight titles.) John Elwell, First place, 160 1/2; Russell Elwell, Second place, 174; Lei'a Mapu, Second place, 147; Fred Nagao, Third place, 125 1/2.

Territorial Open: Raphael Dela Calsada, Second place, 114 1/2; Sui Pita, Third place, 114 1/2; Fred Nagao, First place, 125 1/2; Lloyd Ishii, Third place, 136 1/2; Lei'a Mapu, Second place, 147 1/2; Leamaota Galeai, Third place, 147 1/2; John Elwell, Second place, 160 1/2; Russell Elwell, Second place, 147; Po'u Sokiai, Second place, 191; Fred Rotkins, Second place, Heavyweight.

Besides the AAU meets the wrestling club has sponsored two other meets strictly for the experience and the practice. The first such meet was with the Marine team at Kahuku gym. Although the Marines emerged victorious, CCH gained much-needed experience in the meet.

With the Kahuku High School Alumni, the club co-sponsored a meet with top-notch wrestlers from Japan. The meet which was also held at Kahuku was won by the experienced Japan team.
